

WildlifePhoto 2017

Category Habitats and Landscapes

Runner-up: Stefan Cruysberghs (BEL) with “Sunrise in Altai Mountains”

This photo was taken during a very cold morning in Altai Tavan Bogd national park in Mongolia, near the border of Russia and China. We stayed overnight in a ger of some Tuvan nomads and I woke up very early to make some long exposure shots of the river, the snowy mountains and the drifting ice. There was also a herd of bactrian camels owned by the Tuvan nomads who live in this remote region. Sunrise started with some warm orange light but after 10 minutes the stunning golden light gave a beautiful contrast with the blue sky and the drifting ice on the water.

Category Habitats and Landscapes

Highly commended: Stefan Cruysberghs (BEL) with “Sunrise at Blekerheide”

*Sunrise in the heathland of Blekerheide in Lommel, Belgium.
The blooming period of the heath is in late August.*

Nederlands

In de internationale WildlifePhoto-wedstrijd 2017 (georganiseerd door de beroemde natuurfotograaf Will Burrard-Lucas) eindigden twee van mijn foto's op de shortlist van de finale ronde in de categorie "Habitats and Landscapes". Uiteindelijk werd mijn foto van de zonsopgang in de Altai Mountains als runner-up (2<sup>e</sup> of 3<sup>e</sup> plaats) gekozen.

Zelfs mijn foto van de zonsopgang op de Blekerheide in Lommel werd geprezen met een highly commended. De wedstrijdjury vond het licht in mijn foto's uitstekend. Beide foto's worden in maart 2018 op een groot buitenscherf in New York getoond.
